about walking the talk."*

Klaus Jorlet, CEO & Partner

THIS IS WE DO WOOD

We Do Wood was founded back in 2011. We work only with Danish furniture manufactures and have a long tradition of craftsmanship and high-quality furniture. In respect for the nature, the elegant designs are made to last for generations.

It is important for us that our products can be absorbed into nature without the use of chemicals. We use only FSC® certified suppliers to maintain and restore the ecosystem, while taking care of the wellbeing of workers and the local communities.

As a team, we are committed to raise the bar in all sustainable parameters. Therefore we always have the three pillars of sustainability, People, Planet and Profit, in our minds when we are working towards finding the best solution.

With a sustainable mindset, we at We Do Wood strive to look out for our planet and our next generation.

We hope you will join us,

Klaus Jorlet & Søren Andersen

OUR PHILOSOPHY

Economic development

We always make sure that our products are made to last both in terms of materials and design – and when possible, we upcycle and recycle.

CO2-neutral production

We care deeply about our footprint. Therefore, the end-to-end supply chain, from plantation to final product, is CO2-neutral or better.

E0-standard

All products meet the strict European formaldehyde emission E0 standard (E1 - EN 13986), ensuring an emission-free indoor climate.

Environmental protection

We choose sustainable materials, and when possible we use formaldehyde-free glue, choose water-based paint or avoid paint by implementing other techniques such as carbonisation and oxidation. design – and when possible, we upcycle and recycle.

OUR RESPONSIBILITY

Circular Economy

We advocate for circular economics or the philosophy that everything that nature creates is recycled. Durability is essential, materials can be recycled, and our products can be absorbed into nature after use without the use of chemicals.

Sustainable Furniture

We work with residual materials, upcycling, no waste and environmentally friendly materials such as bamboo to create sustainable furniture. We Do Wood is FSC® certified (C138925). In addition, we use FSC® certified suppliers to ensure that the forest can keep up with the production and to protect both animals and plant life.

Social Sustainability

We have a holistic focus that balances our customers' desires and the conditions of the people who create our furniture. As an example, we create urban diversity through Green House living concepts and focus on collaborative development processes.

Global Goals

We strive to follow the Sustainable Development Goals which have the power to create a better world by 2030, by ending poverty, fighting inequality and addressing the urgency of climate change. Guided by the goals, we create sustainable furniture. To read more about the Global Goals press the numbers below or go to www.globalgoals.org

"We don't see the concept of sustainability as a passing phase, we view it as our very foundation. Ethics and aesthetics must go hand in hand."

OUR DESIGNERS

"A piece of furniture is a succes when it invites you to use it and does not require too much explanation."

Sebastian Jørgensen
Designer

A small, practical and simply designed chair (Lillys chair) built for Sebastian Jørgensen's daughter became the begining of We Do Wood.

The consistent approach is that functionality must be the key, and that the product must be able to fit smoothly into people's everyday lives. The main thing is to create furniture that is honest in both its actual function and its visual expression.

"Good furniture must quite simply stand there and invite you to use it"

Portrait: Jonas Højgaard

*"I believe that a great design is complete,
when you cannot remove anymore from it"*

Jonas Højgaard
Designer

Scandinavian design is often labelled as being minimalistic. I believe that holds some truth, but it is not the whole story.

I strongly believe that 'the path of least resistance' collides with what we in general perceive as great minimalistic design. It is a concept derived from nature, where resources are scarce and efficiency is key. I believe that a great design is complete, when you cannot remove anymore from it.

Portrait: Michael Sebbler Colfelt

"I seek beauty in the simple shape itself, a detail or in the function"

Michael Sebbler Colfelt
Designer

Being a designer you take position. There are no 'easy' solutions.
I believe the best result is always obtained by hard and thorough work.

Michael Sebbler Colfelt is a highly skilled and award winning designer working within the fields of architecture, furniture design, product design, lighting design and interior design.

He took his Master as an Architect and Designer at the Royal Academy of Arts in Copenhagen. Today he has his own multidisciplinary design studio; Superform Design.

"Innovation and aesthetics are equal values and the goal is always to end up with a product that appears in its own right"

Hans Sandgren Jakobsen
Designer

The Scandinavian, minimalistic & highly functional design of SONO AMBRA™ is made by the danish furniture designer Hans Sandgren Jakobsen.

Working with design Hans Sandgren finds it important to add innovation, aesthetics and functionality into both new and existing design. Hans believes that a piece of furniture is only to consist of the essential materials which will make it appear clean and simple.

Hans Sandgren Jakobsen, who is both a trained cabinetmaker and designer, works in the intersection between drawing board and model workshop, to constantly optimize the final shape, and to ensure optimal function.

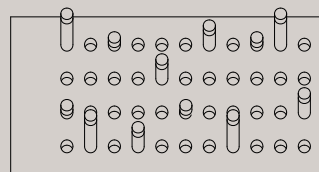

Portrait: Hans Sandgren Jakobsen

“The main thing for us is to create furniture that is honest in both its actual function and its visual expression.”
