Danish Woodlands

Our dedication to local production and the use of raw materials stands as a cornerstone in our core values. To actualize this commitment, we've forged a partnership with Jyndbjerg, Danish Woodlands, a reputable Danish manufacturer, to optimize wood utilization and minimize resource wastage.

This collaboration serves as a guarantee of sustainable forestry practices and responsible logging methods. Introducing a QR code system enhances transparency for our customers, enabling them to trace the tree's origin and monitor the entire journey from raw wood to the finished product.

Danish Woodlands is your guarantee for sustainable forest management and gentle logging that preserves biodiversity with rich wildlife and plant life in an intact forest floor. Danish Woodlands highlights sustainably produced Danish wood with respect for forest biodiversity and a transparent and short supply chain from forest to production-ready wood.

BUDDE / We Do Wood

BUDDE is a cologne-based design studio, founded in 2019 and led by Architect Johannes Budde and Meike Papenfuss.

Arising from the field of architecture, and studio's work stretches across typologies such as furniture, lighting and home decor - combining exclusive collectible designs as well as scalable designs intended for the commercial market.

Driven by a courageous spirit, BUDDE seeks to introduce meaningful objects that provide a new take on a quotidian object. The studio's practice is characterized by eliminating excess and relying on essential forms. Purposeful details and intuitive functionality are paired with a commitment to outstanding quality and longevity.

DREI hook

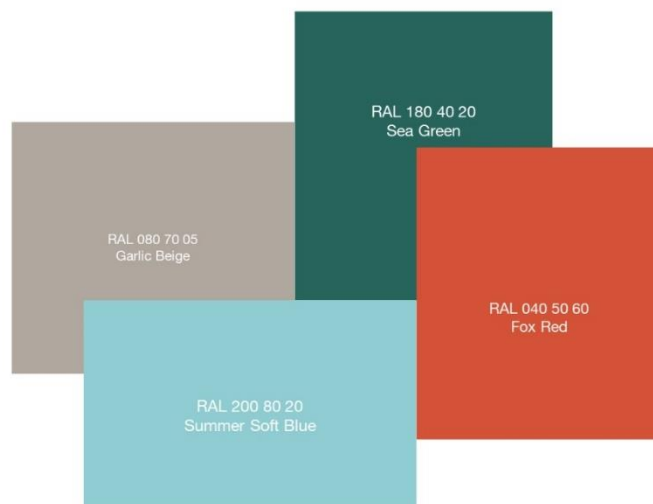

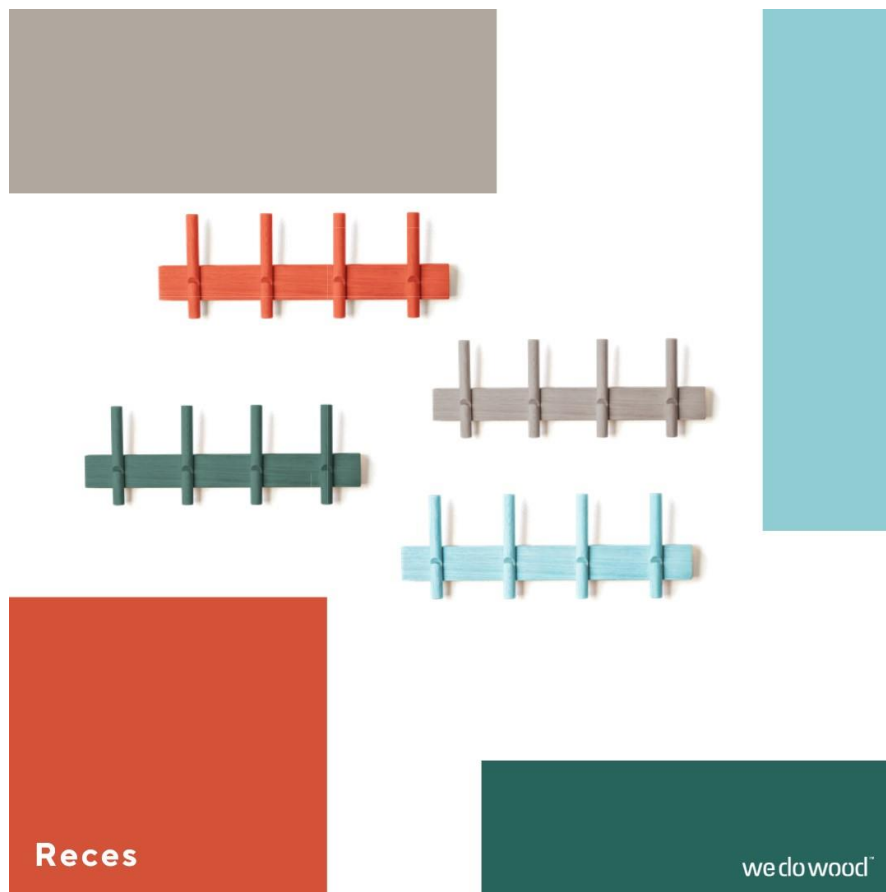

Introducing DREI, a hook designed by German design studio BUDDE for We Do Wood. Created with minimalism at its core, the hooks bring functionality together with a poetic silhouette, seamlessly blending into the modern home.

A wooden 20 cm-long stick is diagonally sliced and the two resulting pieces are marginally offset, as it was captured in motion, a subtle yet essential detail which naturally forms a functional hook to hang clothes or kitchen towels. With a timeless appeal, the hooks can enrich a multitude of settings, from the hallway, kitchen or bedroom.

Coming in a set of three, the hooks can be hung in a linear formation for a simple, refined expression or in a vibrant, dynamic layout for a more playful aesthetic. Thanks to a varied positioning of the slice in each stick, each hook has a distinctive character and provides hanging space at a different height.

Measurements per hook:
20 x 3 x 3 cm

The colour palette is based on the RAL 2025+ trend research

In 2024, We Do Wood introduces a new colour palette for the Reces coat rack to complement the natural oak tone. The four tones are extracted from the RAL 'COLOUR FEELING 2025+' trend report and represent contemporary design with a grounded aesthetic.
